

DAVID OSHIRO

VIRTUAL JOB SHADOW

MARKETING MANAGER

MAY 2ND

2:30-3:10

(AFTER EARLY RELEASE)

David helps direct what Prime Day, Black Friday, Back to School and more look like on the Amazon website. His job is part coding, part business operations, part creative design, part stats, and the rest is marketing. He works with multiple teams at Amazon to build the shopping experience. His work crosses user experience with math, science and analytics.

Are you interested in marketing or applications of computer science?

Would you like a look "under the hood" of the Amazon website?

Join David via Zoom for an introduction to his work, a discussion of how he got there, tips and advice, and time for your questions.

Student Job Shadow Registration Link