

Grading Information

Grading in the art studio will be made up of the following components: Journal/Notebook, Studio Work, Studio Community, and Critique Participation. Attendance in any studio class is critical to completion of work, and skill development. Missed classes can be made up before or after school as needed. Students will be engaged in self-evaluations, and class critiques. Students are encouraged to effectively use class time, learn from their peers, and engage in a creative and encouraging studio environment.

It is the student's responsibility to turn work in when it is due, and to periodically check their assignments and grades both in their journals and on skyward. If you have any concerns or questions please check in with me. I offer extra credit in various forms to students that may need the extra points for a variety of circumstances. These typically come in the form of an extension of a project, researching an artist, or an optional piece of work.
